LIGHTS ON

TO SAVE LIVES

RSA

It's not just at night you need to turn on your lights.

Bright thinking

Dipped headlights are particularly effective in:

- preventing head-on and front-corner collisions which frequently occur during the day time.
- making it easier to identify oncoming vehicles in the distance.
- promoting safe road user behaviour.
- encouraging all motorists to turn their lights on.
- exposing motorists with faulty lights.
- ensure all lights are in proper working order and clean.

Brighter future

Dipped headlights can help reduce the number of deaths and serious injuries on our roads.

So remember –

LIGHTS ON TO SAVE LIVES
